

Contents

Transcription Table	6
<hr/>
Introduction	8
Evaluating the Traditions Mentioned Below	9
Sources of Cited Traditions.	9
Verse 2:190 - Fighting as a Reaction of Being Fought Against	11
Construing the Killing of Women, Children and Other Defenceless People as Acts of Transgression	11
Letters by the Umayyad Caliph ‘Umar ibnu ‘Abdi l-‘Azīz	13
Ḥadīth About a Woman Who was Killed	15
Defencelessness is Expressly Mentioned as a Reason for the Prohibition	17
More Reports About the Woman Who was Killed	17
References to the Elderly	19
References to Monks	20
Multiple Examples of Defenceless People – Instructions by the First Caliph
Abū Bakr aṣ-Ṣiddīq	21
An Address by the First Caliph Abū Bakr aṣ-Ṣiddīq	23
References to Farmers in Letters from the Second Caliph ‘Umar ibnu l-Khaṭṭāb	23
Orders from the Prophet ﷺ with References to Labourers and Servants	25
References to Merchants	26
A Ḥadīth About the Prophet’s ﷺ Firm Rejection of Killing Offspring	26
Ḥadīth: A Prophet’s Companion Does not Kill Children	27
Statements by Other Scholars and Personalities of Early Islam	29

The Unanimous Announcement of this Prohibition by the Early Scholars of Ḥadīth	30
Concluding Statements	32
Practices Forbidden by Islam, Practiced by Militant Groups Attributed to Islam	34
The so-called “Islamic State’s” un-Islamic appeal: to attack civilians	34
Preposterous arguments by al-Qā’idah’s leadership to legitimise attacks on civilians	34
Muslims are no Machiavellians. The end does not justify the means	36
Grotesque claims by Abū Mus’ab as-Sūrī	39
Attacks on mosques and places of worship of other religions	40
Other deliberate attacks	41
War Crimes in General	42
Closing Remarks	44
<hr/>
Notes on the Transcription	45
Notes on the Formatting and Capitalization of Transcribed Words	46
Chronological Index of Early Islamic Authors	47
References	48